COUNTDOWN TO CRAWL - 7!

7 days to the 4th annual Lit Crawl L.A.
in the NoHo Arts District
Wednesday, October 26, 2016

Click here for full Schedule and detailed Map.

From the Opening Welcome at 6 p.m. through the Closing Speak-Easy party, at 10 p.m., the night is filled with three rounds of literary mayhem and celebration.

We are thrilled to see what is in store for us this year. Fresh faces and returning Lit Crawl L.A. veterans will be sharing poetry readings, music, prose, and games will be taking place all night!

Ranging 1.7 miles on Lankershim and Magnolia
Blvds. in the NoHo Arts

District, 37 presenters including Eclectic Voices, Desert Stories, Sisters in Crime Los Angeles, PEN Center USA, Red Hen Press, Poets4Progress and Malibu Writers Circle—to name a few—can be seen at 30 locations up and down the route.

Hunger Pangs: The Literary Cravings We Feed | Lunch Ticket Magazine

Map 4: Firehouse Subs

The cravings we feed. The appetites we can't deny. The hungers that consume us. Come to our feast of writers' bitter and sweet stories from real life.

Featuring: Mary Birnbaum, Angela

Weird and Wicked | Eclectic Voices

Map 6: Blastoff Comics and Books

From demonic possession to the bowels of Party City to the Festival of Samhain to the backstages of a Halloween theme park to the DMV (Department of Monstrous Vermin), these stories celebrate the humorous and horrific sides of our darkest cavity-inducing holiday.

Bullock, Rochelle Newman, Patrick O'Neil.

Outcasts and Angels: Stories of Wicked Revelation | The Rumpus

Map 16: El Tejano

Step inside the territory of fierce revelation with 5 authors who stab the dark with beaming prose.

Featured Writers: Xochi-Julisa Burmejo, Garrard Conley, Antonia Crane, Dr. Ashaki Jackson, Wendy C. Ortiz.
